Product Description

When it comes to play structures, it's important to never settle for one that doesn't give your playground-goers as many options as possible to engage with. The primary aim of play structures is to serve as a centerpiece of one's playground, a lightning rod of imaginative play and active fun. Cactus Corner can be described thusly, and offers a bevy of exciting play elements for kids to choose from. Starting on the ground, children can engage with the structure's two wheels; the Ship's Wheel and the Rain Wheel vary in size, and offer their own distinct sensory experiences. Cactus Corner's five slides offer equal parts visual and practical appeal. Whether kids choose to zoom back down to the ground using the Double Slide or the Straight, Lef...
