

Product Description

Boot Camp offers a variety of exciting body-building and fitness equipment that gym and fitness freaks need to hit their ambitious goals. The Boot Camp includes every type of equipment, be it warm-up machines to stretch muscles or machines to build complex muscles. Nobody will have to wait and stare at other people working out because all the equipment has doubled or tripled stations. This means more than two people can use a single machine with their fitness buddies, which means less time and more customers for your facility. Each and every machine is handy and adjustable no matter where you keep it. No matter how harsh the weather is, you don't need to take the headache of its care and durability for years to come. Above all, this Boot Camp has all the equipment for every type of body shape and age. Every machine comes with specific instructions, which eliminates the need for external help.
