

Product Description

Leg presses are a key exercise to build muscle in the legs as well as the core as users press their own body weight up and down on the Royal Triple Station Leg Press. This equipment features workout stations for three people all facing in the same direction which makes it easy to hold conversations and encourage each other when working out as partners or a trio. The quads, calves and hamstrings will all be given a high-quality session on the Royal Triple Station Leg Press and the backrest provides the support needed to create clean and smooth movements which focuses the workout where it's needed most without straining. Whether it's for high school teens just beginning their fitness journey or athletes looking to improve their leg strength, the equipment can be used by all ages to enhance their performance. The galvanized steel construction is engineered for outdoor use so will stay in great condition all year long.
