

Product Description

In the Feel The Burn course, you will get four versatile exercise equipment targeting different muscle groups. First, there's the Royal Triple Station Rower, which helps you tone your back and arm muscles. Then there is the Royal Triple Station Leg Press for building Arnold-like legs. Talking about Arnold, there's Royal Triple Station Chest as well, which will give you the chest pump of your dreams. And if someone wants those beach-worthy abs, there's the Royal Station Sit-Up Bench for the core and abdominal area. Each piece of equipment has clear guidelines anyone can follow without external help and jump right in. This course is perfect for people if someone's love to be the social butterfly or go for shared spaces. All equipment can be used by three people at once and complement each other by strengthening your body muscles and improving cardiovascular endurance.
