Product Description

Your outdoor gym can seriously benefit from having this Quadruple Pull-up Bar Unit. You might think it is a simple, not-so-important structure, but don't fall for its deceptive appearance. It can attract teens and adults who want to work on their back, arm, and shoulder muscles. The best part? Users can alter the structure's difficulty level as necessary. It's a must-have for playgrounds that promote physical wellness and activity. It is also perfectly suitable for outdoor use. Since this Quadruple Pull-up Bar Unit has a powder-coat finish, it is highly water and rust-resistant. It won't fade or lose its charm over time. Plus, it is designed to be safe. The bars are made up of galvanized steel, so you can rest assured that they won't bend due to prolonged use. You can also order it in any color you want. You can get it in the shade that complements the other existing equipment.
