Product Description

Who said rope climbing is just for kids? It is also a great physical activity for the adults. It helps them work on their forearm and shoulder muscles. But with this Quadruple Rope Climber with Arch Posts, they can even engage other core muscles like those in the abdomen. It is perfect for community outdoor areas as it promotes health and fitness. You'll be attracting a lot more people to your park by installing this unit. A good thing about this equipment is its capacity. Up to 4 people can easily exercise on it at once. And don't worry, it won't fall apart. Our Quadruple Rope Climber with Arch Posts is designed with high-quality materials. It is durable and stable because of its galvanized steel frame. The powder coating keeps it safe from weather exposure. It has a sleek design that will also contribute to your park's overall aesthetics.
