Product Description

Climbing odd surfaces is one of kids' favorite pastimes. So how about providing them a safe yet challenging outlet for it? The Double Parallel Rock Climbing Wall is a solution for just that. The wall is wide and dual-sided, which means a bunch of kids can scale it at the same time without waiting for their turn. Both sides of the wall have footholds and grips strategically placed at different heights. Even the younger children will manage to scale the wall, while more experienced climbers can seek out higher holds to make it more challenging. The grips are made tactile to reduce slipping and the footholds are made wide for ample foot space. And since climbing works wonders for developing key muscle groups, balance, and flexibility, the wall also offers a solid workout while keeping things playful. Each and every element of the Double Parallel Rock Climbing Wall comes in custom colors. You can choose different color combinations to make it perfectly match your setup.
