Product Description

When it comes to kids' outdoor fitness gear, the Single Vaulting Bar offers unique exercises. This bar plays a special role in identifying and preparing future gymnasts. It's made of galvanized steel, meaning it won't snap or get bent out of shape even under the heaviest loads. The wide and sturdy bars are ideal for safely leaping and bouncing around with less chance of wrong feet and hand placement. Kids can practice vaults or show off some cool acrobatic moves with the peace of mind that the wide bar is there for support. The Single Vaulting Bar also has other use cases. Kids can place a leg on the bar and reach for their toes or even try out some basic yoga moves. The thickness and round ends of the Single Vaulting Bar also contribute to safety. There's no spot on the entire surface that can poke the skin and cause discomfort. The bar also has a powder-coated finish which protects it from rusting.
