

Product Description

Let users swing their way to a fitter, more healthier lifestyle with the Double Station Pendulum Swing which accommodates a range of ages and fitness abilities. The fact there are two swings next to each other doubles the fun and makes the experience more uplifting as families can swing together or fitness partners can challenge each other to maintain the same levels of fitness. Being in a gym is one thing, but swinging from side to side with a friend in the fresh air is a much more pleasurable experience as users can take in the scenery and converse with one another whether it's placed on a popular fitness trail or on a college campus. The Double Station Pendulum Swing is a super way to get fit and users will find they prefer this piece of equipment as the swinging motion gives added flexibility to the hips and midsection in a way other similar exercise apparatus does not. Once installed you don't have to worry about maintenance as all of the mechanisms are enclosed to prevent rainwater getting inside and causing rust.
